

Bataan Wounded Await Medical Aid

Filipino troops wounded in heroic defense of Bataan peninsula lie on stretchers at a makeshift field hospital in the jungle awaiting medical attention. Inroads of disease and food shortage finally led to collapse of defenders. Only a tenth of the fighters escaped to the island of Corregidor. (NEA Telephoto.)

Britain's Proposals to India Withdrawn; Negotiations Cease

All-India Congress and Moslem League Reject Cripps's Offer

(This cable dispatch is the first to reach The Associated Press directly from the fortress of Corregidor since Bataan fell. Dean Schedler, who wrote the story, is an Oklahoman who has been in the Philippines for six years. He escaped to Corregidor when the Japanese occupied Manila, and from there reached Bataan.)

New Delhi, India, April 11.—(AP)—Dominant Hindu and Moslem parties today rejected Britain's offer of dominion status after the war and Sir Stafford Cripps, special emissary of the British war cabinet, announced that the proposal he brought to India had been withdrawn.

The historic mission of Sir Stafford failed when the All-India Congress party, potent voice of the Hindu majority, and the Moslem League, strongest spokesman for the 77,000,000 minority Moslems, declared London's terms unacceptable.

With the Japanese threat to India increasing daily, the British offer envisioned post-war dominion status and greater autonomy for India in return for full and immediate support of the British war effort.

At a press conference, the British emissary said that although Britain and India had failed in their negotiations there was a "large and very important area of agreement as to the future freedom of India."

In announcing that the plan which he had brought to India was withdrawn, Cripps said that the status of India reverted to what it was before he came here.

Was Emergency Measure

(Informed quarters in London said the breakdown of the negotiations meant that the existing British government in India would continue to administer the country and its war effort.)

(They pointed out that the plan Cripps took to India was an emergency measure brought on by the critical state of the war in the east. Long before this trip, in 1940, the British declared they would welcome India within the British commonwealth of nations as "an equal partner". That promise never has been withdrawn.)

Cripps said he would deal with the discussions in the negotiations in a radio address tonight (10 a. m., CWT.) and disclosed he would leave New Delhi tomorrow on his return journey.

"Discussions are over", he said, "x x x but the present and the future press upon us and must be faced."

"India Is Threatened"

"India is threatened", declared Sir Stafford.

He called upon all who love India to bring their energies to her immediate help.

"Great Britain will do her utmost", he said.

"America is doing all she can and now India must devote herself wholeheartedly with special effort in every field of activity in defending her soil and protecting her women and children from those ghastly horrors that have befallen her Chinese friends and neighbors."

In that connection, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, president of the Congress party, in a letter to Sir Stafford said that "we are agreeable to postponing the entire issue so that the largest possible measure of unity might be achieved in the present crisis for India's defense".

RAF Raiders Drop Tons of Bombs on Nazis' War Plants

By The Associated Press

Waves of RAF planes blasted the German-occupied "invasion coast" of France today, capping heavy night assaults in which British raiders dropped hundreds of tons of high explosives and incendiaries on Germany's Ruhr valley war foundries in one of the fiercest attacks of the war.

The big Krupp armament works was the chief target of the night foray, the London Air Ministry said, acknowledging the loss of 13 RAF bombers.

German-occupied LeHavre also was bombed.

The Germans said 12 British bombers were shot down and acknowledged that "houses were damaged and there were casualties among the civilian population."

RAF daylight raiders apparently struck in the direction of Boulogne.

Coincidentally, the London Daily Sketch hinted at an allied invasion of the continent, declaring that conferences of Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. Army Chief of Staff, and Harry Hopkins with Britain's war leaders indicated that "our plans have gone beyond the production stage."

"The contemplated stroke may be of an unexpected character and at an unexpected place," the newspaper said. "There is plenty of room for striking at Nazi-occupied Europe."

British officials were said to have estimated that Adolf Hitler had about 600,000 troops for defense against such an invasion, and that allied landing armies would have to be about two and one-half times as strong.

On the Russian front, soviet dispatches reported that more than 3,000 Germans had been killed in the last few days around Bryansk, 220 miles southwest of Moscow, and declared the nazis were suffering terrific casualties in counterattacks aimed at relieving encircled German garrisons.

Hitler's field headquarters claimed equally heavy losses by Red army troops "in successful German thrusts" on the central (Moscow) front. In the north, around Leningrad, the German high command said strong tank-supported Russian attacks were "frustrated."

On the North African front there was still no indication that German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was developing his expected major offensive aimed at conquest of Egypt and a drive through the Middle East to Russian's southern flank.

British headquarters said German-Italian activity was minor, with British artillery shelling small axis columns "attempting to move in the forward area" of the battle sector 100 miles west of Tobruk.

Salvage for Victory Campaign to Be Conducted Here April 27-May 2

Every household in Dixon is being urged to participate in the Salvage for Victory week campaign to be observed April 27 to May 2, for which a well planned collection arrangement has been formulated. Every home is requested to start at once the collection of scrap metals, waste paper, rags and rubber to be donated during the campaign week.

The city is to be divided into five zones and during the campaign week, scrap metal dealers of the city with their trucks will visit the zones and collect the waste materials. Papers are to be bound carefully to lesson bulk and scrap metals, rags and rubber are to be placed into containers

Bataan's Soldiers and Nurses, Safe Fort, Talk of Sleep

AP Receives Its First Dispatch, Delayed, From Corregidor

By DEAN SCHEDLER

Corregidor Fortress, April 9—

(AP)—(Delayed)—Nurses and soldiers of Bataan, dazed with the shock of battle, sought rest and sleep today within the walls of Corregidor fortress, itself battered by Japanese bombs.

They came last night, brave refugees from the long battle that was gloriously lost, swimming through shark-infested waters of the channel between Bataan and this Manila Bay fortress, or rowing pitifully small boats through bombs and vicious machine-gun blasts from enemy planes.

Nurses, fatigued after days and nights of service in Bataan's hospitals under constant fire, stumbled ashore from the boats, so weary they could hardly walk. Civilians, too, any who dared to risk the trip from stricken Bataan, were among the arrivals.

Those who swam were picked up in mid-channel by other small craft, saved from the sharks but still harassed by the machine-gun

U. S. Air Force to Help RAF Raiders

London, April 11.—(AP)—Reliable sources said today that America's General George C. Marshall and Harry Hopkins, convinced that Russia was the decisive battlefield, were discussing with the British the most effective way to aid the Red armies against the axis.

This aid, the sources added, is almost certain to include U. S. airforce reinforcement of the RAF bombing of Germany.

The British and U. S. fleets are so busy conveying supplies for Russia's own land battles and the shipping situation is so acute that it probably will be some time before there will be transports for continental invasion—a fact which the U. S. Chief of Staff and Hopkins know as well as the British.

But the growing establishments which Marshall is inspecting and the increasing pools of U. S. planes in Britain are taken as an indication that American as well as British air forces will be bombing Germany in a month or two to retard and divert the Nazi offensive against the soviet union.

Japanese Attempt Quick Occupation of Cebu— U.S. Sub Perch Given Up for Lost

Japanese Bombing of Base Hospital on Bataan Related

Wounded Soldiers, Doctors, Nurses Wounded by Huge Missiles

Corregidor Fortress, April 8—(AP)—(Delayed)—Shortly before 10 a. m. yesterday three heavy Japanese bombers unloaded big bombs on a base hospital on Bataan, scoring direct hits on exposed wards and wounding numerous soldiers, doctors and nurses.

Weary, grim Filipino and American soldiers, wounded in the bitter fighting, were bombed out of their hospital beds.

Only recently Japanese planes dropped stick bombs on the hospital base, clearly marked by white sheets forming crosses. American protests drew an apology from the Japanese high command at Manila, which called it unintentional.

Edwin R. Nelson of Huntington, W. Va., who had been working night and day in the operating room treating wounded soldiers, was in the midst of an amputation. The patient was under a spinal anesthetic, and Nelson's aids were trying to comfort him with assurance that the bombers were a safe distance away.

A bomb struck the ward, and the surgeon and his staff dropped to the floor. The operating room was a shambles.

Resumed Operation
When the dust cleared Nelson resumed the operation, though his instruments and gloves were no longer sterile.

Through it all the patient never complained, although the anesthetic had worn off.

Nelson described the bombing as a "nightmare I never want to see again."

Patients in triple-tier beds were scattered about like toy soldiers. Doctors and nurses sought frantically to restore order, calm the hysterical, give aid where possible, sometimes operate on the spot.

A nurse, Rita G. Palmer, of Hampton, N. H., on duty when the bombs first struck, related:

"All morning long bombers were roaring about dropping bombs. I was under the table most of the time at first, then I realized I should be about my duties."

Heard Big Bomb Coming

"Suddenly I heard the swish of a big one coming. There was a terrific blast. The air was dark and cloudy from thick dust and powder smoke."

"I don't remember just what happened next—I guess I passed out."

She suffered only a couple of scratches.

Nurse Rosemary Hogan of Chattanooga, Okla., who also suffered only slight injuries, was thrown to the floor by one concussion.

"The noise and confusion were terrible," she said. "The air was thick with patients calling for help, unable to get up."

Salaries of City Clerk and Assistant Boosted

The city ordinance fixing the salaries of the city clerk and deputy city clerk was amended at last evening's session of the city council to provide increases for both of these efficient city employees. The amendment, which was passed by the unanimous vote of the council, provides that the salary of City Clerk Wayne Smith be fixed at $2,100 annually, while the salary of his assistant, Miss Irene Hamill, was increased to $1,080 annually.

The application of Dr. J. M. Miley to erect a neon electric sign at 203½ First street was presented and the necessary permit granted. Bills against the city amounting to $4,120.99 were ordered paid.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
(Telegraph Special Service)

Speculation increases like spring-fever on both sides of the Atlantic about the possibility of opening up an allied front somewhere in western Europe in support of the Russians, and something like that might happen in due course, but it must be said that the axis is making it very difficult for such a project to materialize.

I refer to the heavy toll of shipping which the triple alliance is taking. When we talk about invasion across water one of the first things we must think about is ships—in great numbers. I'm afraid a lot of critics have been overlooking that in demanding immediate invasion of the continent.

Britain and America have men enough for the project; the British air power would seem to be sufficient to support the venture; presumably we should have enough land equipment in the not distant future to warrant a start. But we allies are woefully weak in shipping—a lack which has been hampering operations the world over.

Our entrance into the war has increased difficulties in this respect immensely. Not only do we have the growing depredations by the nazis, Italians and Japanese, but the opening of the battle of the Pacific has multiplied allied commitments and the length of sea communications. When we stop to consider that a convoyed vessel can make only three or four round trips in a year to the orient from our west coast or from England, we begin to see what a strain both America and Britain are under.

So thus far the allies haven't had enough ready boats to stage an invasion, even if they had been prepared otherwise. And it must be remembered that it would require a huge fleet to get troops, equipment and continuing supplies across the English Channel. Also an armada would be necessary to blast open the way, and the Anglo-American naval fleets have been too busy with long-distance convoys for any concerted action like invasion.

There then is another point: It would be a terrific risk for the United States and Britain to mass their fleets, or any considerable portion of them, for the purposes of invasion now. Should things go badly, they might lose enough warships to throw control of the seas into the axis pocket, to say nothing of giving the Japs run of the Pacific ocean while we were busy with the operation.

Thus we see that a full-dress invasion of western Europe probably would be the most difficult and dangerous operation which could be undertaken. However, there is another area of inestimable strategic importance which must be manned by the allies—that is Syria, Iraq and Iran. From this Middle Eastern base help could be fed to the Russians through the Caucasus. And should Hitler break down through the Caucasus, or by-pass Turkey in an effort to get into Syria, the allied forces would be in a

To Start Preparation for Registration Lee Co. Sugar Consumers

Doubtless the largest task of registration of Lee county residents in history will take place from May 4 to 7 inclusive when approximately 39,900 individuals will appear at some designated school, in the county to register for sugar rationing cards. In Dixon alone, it is estimated that about 15,000 persons will register. A five per cent increase over the last census figure is permitted to allow for added population and defense plant workers.

A reproduction of the application for sugar ration book was published in last evening's Telegraph. Readers are urged to study the form carefully or to clip it and use it as information which will expedite filling out the forms on the registration dates.

Next week, County Rationing Chairman William Slothower with the assistance of the Auxiliary to the Dixon American Legion post will assemble in County Clerk Sterling Schrock's office to distribute the several forms necessary for the registration boards throughout the county.

U-Boat Last Heard From Month Ago in Java Sea Fighting

Loss Brings to Total of 29 Number of U. S. Navy Boats Sunk

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—The U. S. submarine Perch has been overdue for a month and presumably is lost in the western Pacific, the navy announced today.

The Perch, commissioned six years ago, last was reported operating in the Java sea.

She was under command of Lieutenant Commander David Albert Hurt, 38, Pounding Mill, Va.

She was the fourth submarine reported lost or missing by the navy department since the war began. The others were the Shark, reported overdue in the western Pacific; the S-26, which went down after a collision off Panama and the Sea Lion, demolished at Cavite in the Philippines.

Loss of the Perch brought to 29 the number of naval vessels announced as lost since Dec. 7.

The announcement said that next of kin of all members of the crew have been notified, but gave no estimate of the total personnel.

The loss was announced in the navy department's communique, No. 70, based on reports received up to 9:30 a. m. CWT today.

"Southwest Pacific"

"1. The U. S. submarine Perch has been overdue for more than a month and must be presumed to be lost."

"2. The Perch was one of the U. S. submarines operating in the vicinity of Java and her last position report placed her in the Java sea."

"3. The next of kin have been notified."

"4. There is nothing to report from other areas."

Normally, the crew of the Perch numbered 50.

The Perch, commissioned November 19, 1935, had a length overall of 300 feet 6 inches, a beam of 25 feet 1 inch and a designed displacement of 1,330 tons. The submarine was built by the American "Flying Tigers" Supreme

Chunking, China, April 11.—(AP)—Still supreme in their corner of the air after the Japanese radio repeatedly boasted they would be blasted from the sky, the hard-hitting "Flying Tigers" of the American Volunteer Group were credited today with their second triumph in as many days over Japan's air force.

The A. V. G. part of the vast system of men and guns being marshaled for the defense of India, reported shooting down seven Japanese planes for certain and probably four more out of a force of 20 which attempted to attack an airbase in northern Burma Thursday.

All A. V. G. planes returned to their base without a scratch.

Only the day before the A. V. G. intercepted 20 raiders and shot down 10.

The Japanese got in a few licks Thursday morning however. Attacking the northern Burma airbase, they strafed it and damaged two or three grounded planes. No casualties resulted.

The American volunteer fliers are fighting with new equipment and reinforcements which came after the Japanese succeeded in damaging their base in central Burma a few weeks ago.

Their two victories this week were reported as the British commander in India, General Sir Archibald Wavell, lined up every man, ship and plane for the defense of the Ganges basin of India, menaced by Japanese air and naval units in the Bay of Bengal and by the Japanese in Burma.

Two Killed, Five Injured in Auto Collision at Harmon Spur, Route 30

Mrs. R. L. Newton and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Bertha Newton, both of Humboldt, Ia., were killed, and five other persons were injured when two automobiles collided on route 3 and the Harmon spur at 9 o'clock Friday night.

The injured were R. L. Newton of Humboldt, driver of one of the machines, and Roy and Anna Hockett and George and Rhoda Barnhart, all of Rock Falls, occupants of the other car. They were taken to a Sterling hospital.

Vote in the Primary

Every voter should go to the polls and vote next Tuesday. It is a patriotic duty.

In the Republican primary election there are a number of important decisions to be made. Looking over the ballot, The Telegraph makes the following recommendations:

For United States Senator there can be but one choice—Wayland Brooks. Curly Brooks has been fighting the battles of the people of Illinois in Washington ever since we sent him down there and he is now regarded as one of the ablest men on the floor of the U. S. senate. We need to keep him there for we will have further battles of great importance to the people of this state.

For State Treasurer we endorse the candidacy of William J. Stratton. Mr. Stratton has been serving this state with ability and integrity as congressman-at-large from Illinois and he was elected to that position with a vote that showed remarkable strength. He now has offered his name for an important place on the state ticket and we recommended him for state treasurer.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction we endorse Vernon L. Nickell.

For Congressman-at-Large we recommend Dennis B. Hull, a prominent patriot with illustrious antecedents.

For Congress from the Thirtieth Congressional district we have our present Congressman Leo Allen who is running without opposition. Congressman Allen is now a veteran in Washington and has made an enviable record. The district is proud of him.

For State Central Committee we endorse Ben L. Berve, present incumbent. Mr. Berve, whose home is in Rochelle, is completing his first term as chairman of the Republican state committee and he certainly acquitted himself with distinction for, as state chairman, he directed the successful state campaign which resulted in the election of Governor Dwight Green, U. S. Senator Wayland Brooks and, with only one exception, the entire Republican state ticket. Mr. Berve should be returned to office so that he may continue his splendid services to the party and the state.

Dennis Collins, who has a splendid record as Representative in the General Assembly from this district, not only has no opposition in the Republican primary but no aspirant has filed in the Democratic primary.

There are two to be nominated for Representative in the General Assembly by the Republicans in this district and the Telegraph endorses Lytle Prescott of Lee county

Defense Bonds Pledge Card Distribution To Be Made in Lee May 11

Monday, May 11, is the date which has been set for the Lee county Defense bond distribution of pledge cards. County Chairman Oliver Gehant of West Brooklyn announced today that Lee county has been organized with each school director in every grade school district as a member of the committee in that district. Each is expected to conduct the active solicitation in his district and report to the township chairman.

"It is the duty of each and every one to buy all of the Savings bonds and stamps he can, and when the committeeman calls, to cooperate with him and thus assure Lee county's being among the high ranking counties of Illinois in the amount subscribed," Chairman Gehant stated.

"We've got a big job to do in Lee county and a quota has been set for this program", he added. "The amount of bonds and stamps that we must buy is a great deal larger than our past purchases. Every citizen in the county is urged to buy to the limit in order to meet this quota."

The destruction was small compared with the havoc inflicted on the Japanese in four months of fighting.

Nipponese Hammer at Corregidor in Steady Air Attack

No Word From Bataan; Fate of 37,000 Men on Peninsula Unknown

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Victory-flushed Japanese hammered at beleaguered Corregidor fortress from the air today while striving for a quick occupation of Cebu, the Philippines' second largest city.

An invasion force estimated at 12,000 started landing yesterday on the island of Cebu on which the city is situated, the war department reported, but met with stubborn resistance from a small American-Filipino defending force and suffered heavy casualties.

Although supported by fire from warships and dive bombers and by tanks, the invaders at no point were able to advance more than a few miles.

(Tokyo broadcast an account of violent street fighting and said Cebu city was reported "shrouded in smoke as the enemy set fire to vessels in the bay, oil tanks and other establishments.")

Reporting that communications between Corregidor and Bataan peninsula remained severed, Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright failed to shed further light on the fate of his army of nearly 37,000 which was crushed on the peninsula.

Question Unanswered

The war department's first communique in 24 hours thus left unanswered whether the troops who remained had surrendered.

(A Domei, Japanese news agency, story which Tokyo said was dispatched from Bataan purported to tell of the surrender of American forces at Limay, one of the occupied coastal towns. It said an American officer produced a written formal surrender but that the Japanese commander "refrained from giving a definite answer.")

The army's communique said that Corregidor, General Wainwright's headquarters and nearby Fort Hughes were subjected both to intensive air attacks in the past twenty-four hours and to intermittent artillery cross fire from enemy guns on the peninsula and from siege batteries on the south shore of Manila Bay. Casualties were declared to be few, however, and the damage inflicted slight.

The communique, number 185, based on reports received up to 8:30 a. m., CWT:

"Despite fierce resistance by the small American and Philippine force, the enemy was able to effect a landing on the island of Cebu on April 10. The Japanese force now debarking on that island is estimated at 12,000. The landing is being supported by dive bombers and a heavy fire from hostile naval vessels. Tank units have been landed by Japanese."

"The defenders continue to resist stubbornly and the invaders have been unable to advance inland more than a few miles at any point. Enemy casualties have been heavy."

"Corregidor and Fort Hughes in Manila Bay were subjected to intensive air attacks during the past twenty-four hours. However, our casualties were few and the damage inflicted was slight. "Our fortified islands were under intermittent fire from enemy artillery in Bataan and on the south shore of the Bay."

"There is no communication between our troops in Bataan and those in Corregidor."

Keep Up the Fight

American soldiers and sailors on Corregidor kept up the fight today, charged with exacting the highest possible toll from the Japanese invaders.

The garrison consisted of survivors of the 3,500 Bataan sailors and Marines General Wainwright ordered to the island stronghold in the closing hours of the peninsula fight and the American and Filipino soldiers who had manned its guns for weeks.

Even as the Japanese struck again by air at the island whose guns deny them the use of Manila bay, the navy announced late yesterday that the Bataan forces had destroyed the submarine tender Canopus, the minesweeper Bittern, the naval tug Napa and the Dewey floating drydock to keep them out of enemy hands. MODERNIZATION by PAUL T. HAAGEN, A.I.A.

CARE REQUIRED TO PLAN GOOD RE-ROOFING JOB

If you need a new roof on your home, be sure to find out if it is necessary to remove the old roofing and if the roof boards are solid. Then choose a roofing material that will harmonize with the architecture of your house.

Don't select queer, gaudy and freakish roofing patterns, in an effort to be original. Award the contract to be a reliable roofing concern that will guarantee the material to be used, and the workmanship.

At the same time look to the metal work, gutters, flashings, valleys and downspouts. They will probably need replacing.

GLASS BLOCKS

Glass block is being used very extensively today, the idea being that it allows the entrance of a soft, subdued light and still may be used to obstruct an uninteresting or undesirable view. It also has a decorative value.

Do not make the mistake of putting glass block at the point in the room where a window will give you a lovely view—as was done in a house recently seen.

The glass block and plate glass windows may be effectively combined on an exterior wall, and may be used for the entire side of a room.

Linen Case Needed

PROVIDES ROOM FOR STORING SOILED BEDDING

In every house there is the need of a linen case deep enough, and with shelves properly spaced so that blankets or sheets can be folded and laid neatly in the shelves.

Experience has shown that the case should be divided into different-sized compartments with shelves of varying heights to accommodate sheets, pillow slips, towels, blankets or comforters. The proper sizes can be easily determined by each housewife to fit her individual household.

These divisions may be easily arranged by anyone.

In addition to having in the linen closet ample storage space for the clean linen, many people think it desirable to allow space for a hamper for holding soiled linens, for it is seldom advisable to send the best linens when soiled directly to the basement.

The depths of the linen closet occupies the balance of the space along one wall of the bathroom not occupied by the tub.

A pair of doors should enclose this linen case, hinged at either side.

VARNISHING

When varnishing, be sure the surface of your wood is clean, dry and absolutely free from dust.

The present Pan-American highway traverses 19 countries.

SWITCH CONTROL

For Modern Electric Wiring

Present day fixtures require modern switch controls in all rooms, and room lights are most conveniently controlled at the room entrance.

Outside lights for the yard and premises are conveniently controlled from switches in the house, and garage and cellar lights should be controlled by switches equipped with pilot lights.

Connecting cords under rugs or tacking them along the baseboards is really dangerous. Convenient outlets should be installed where they are really most needed, and included in the modernization scheme.

Always arrange for at least one outlet on each side of every room and for one higher outlet in every room for vacuum cleaner or other appliance.

There is a signal light on the market which has a pilot light in combination with the switch which will soon pay for itself in saved electricity. This pilot light glows when the light in the cellar, garage or other lights which are often forgotten are burning, and immediately tells one that lights somewhere should be turned off as they are not in use.

Then there are closet door switches which, when the door is opened immediately turn on the light; when the door is closed, the light goes out automatically. That is real convenience without waste.

It is quite simple to equip existing switch outlets with a combination switch and convenience receptacle which would be at just the right height for the vacuum cleaner or other appliances. The cost is quite nominal.

DURING THE WAR EMERGENCY

Do Not Put Up With Inconvenient and Out-of-Repair Homes

It does not seem reasonable that your government is going to ask you to let your home fall into disrepair during the war emergency. Rather, it would seem that the real wealth of this country must be kept intact, and if you will look about your house, you will find there are many things to do to keep it in good condition.

The critical materials which are curtailed in building are mostly the metals, brass, steel, copper, etc. These are only a very small part of a remodeling or alteration job, and there are many materials such as lumber, plaster, cement, brick, wallboard, and so forth that are very plentiful.

In many cases where the critical materials such as the metals have been limited, it is possible to offer substitutes that will do a good job, and as time goes on some of the materials now curtailed may be released so that you can get what you need.

Here are a few things that you may want to do in keeping your house in tip-top shape and free from obsolescence:

1. It is possible to build an extra room in the attic which may be rented, particularly if you are in one of the defense areas.
2. If this room is built, of course it must be insulated and heating must be provided. This is a good time to recondition your attic.
3. You may want to remodel your present bathrooms. It may not be possible for you to get all the new plumbing fixtures necessary but perhaps you can install new tile floors or walls or put in linoleum or tileboard. The walls and ceilings may be re-enameled and new window shades, draperies and bath curtains might be installed and a greater attraction value given the rooms.
4. It may be possible to plan another bathroom in the attic to serve the new room you build there. If you cannot now get the critical materials that go in to bathroom construction, why not provide the space for a future bathroom to be installed when material is more available?
5. Most homes never have enough closets, and it is quite possible to take stock of your present closet requirements and revamp your closet space or even build new closets within certain rooms. Closets may be built of gypsum board or plywood and may be cedar-board lined for moth prevention. This is a fine time to consider your closet arrangements.

"HE ALSO SERVES-- WHO STANDS AND WAITS"

For the duration, Wilbur Lumber Co. must deliver material to build and maintain homes, and fuel to heat them, without additions to its present fleet of trucks.

It will have to get along on its present supply of tires. New tires will be available to a very limited extent for fuel trucks only.

We accept this situation as a patriotic duty and pledge ourselves to get the maximum of wear out of our delivery equipment.

To do our part in winning the war, we invite the co-operation of our many loyal customers by observing a few simple suggestions:

1. Do not request immediate delivery except in extreme necessity.
2. Order maximum quantities of materials and fuel for capacity loads.
3. Permit us to pool your small orders with those of nearby customers. (This may cause a few hours delay.)
4. We urge customers to carry small over-the-counter merchandise with them.
5. Commercial and industrial customers operating trucks can also help win the war of steel and rubber by picking up their orders when in the vicinity of our yard.

Wilbur Lumber Co. pledges itself to conserve every material needed by the armed forces of the United States and to eliminate waste of every kind.

USE OF GLASS

There is a marked architectural trend toward the use of glass in newer construction—both interior and exterior uses being found for it. This seems to be a trend that is not only beautiful but practical and sensible.

Broad window areas afford greater light and a more gracious frame for beautiful views outside. Glass mirrors add a seeming spaciousness within, and may be utilized to complement and accentuate the decorative scheme of the rooms.

Glass contributes a pleasing effect of smart sophistication and of good taste to design and decoration, when simplicity is the keynote.

Recently 750 carloads of target paper were ordered by the government for training the expanding armed forces. Practice makes perfect and our armed force must be good shots. It takes targets made of paper to make good shots.

Remodeling Work On Crombie Farm

Extensive remodeling work is now being done on the Charles Crombie farm, located west of Dixon, near Nelson. The farm house is being remodeled and thoroughly modernized. Mr. Crombie and family expect to make their residence at the farm in the near future.

Mr. Crombie, like other Dixon builders, chose the Home Lumber company as the source for his building supplies.

Our many satisfied customers know that we handle only the best and most reliable material, that our prices are reasonable, and that our service is excellent. We do not charge for service which includes such extras as free estimates, suggestions based on experience, and a large file of plans for any type of building which you may use at any time.

For building information, call 57 or 72, we will be glad to help you in any way that we are able.

Repair Winter Fence Damage

Repair your fences now. Do not let winter damage mount until the cost becomes immense. We have a large supply of American fencing on hand and due to war restrictions it will be difficult to replace. However, as long as the present stock lasts there will be absolutely no increase in price.

American fence is one of the most popular makes of fencing in this section of the country. Our customers tell us that they wouldn't think of using any other kind.

Come in today and secure your fencing. Remember the early buyer will save money in both material cost and also in the prevention of additional damage which might happen to weakened fences.

For Old or New Homes

Dear Mr. Haagen: We have read and heard about air conditioning but frankly we are just a bit uncertain what it all means.

Can it be used in an old house as well as a new one?

Any advice you can give us will be gratefully received.

Yours very truly, A. T. T.

Air conditioning as thought of today in connection with the small home really consists of heating, cooling and humidifying the air in a warm air furnace. It consists of cleaning and circulating the air and delivering warm air in winter time and cooler air in the summer time. There are other systems more elaborate and technical that may be used in connection with other heating systems.

In the modern furnace, that has been so much improved over the furnace of ten years ago, the air is cleaned, and dust, pollen and other foreign matter is removed. This is done by means of a filter; then the air is heated and circulated by means of a slow moving fan, and air strata are prevented.

Humidity is added to the air by means of an automatic humidifying device placed in the furnace, and this adds moisture to the air, which is needed in a hot air system. A modern furnace with blower and automatic humidification delivers clean, moist, warm air to all rooms of a house better than would the old-fashioned gravity form of furnace. Insulation of the house is important.

CLOSETS

No closet is more convenient than one in the bathroom to hold linens and extra supplies.

A closet that is only eleven inches deep takes up little space in the bathroom and yet it is adequate for the purpose. It also provides an excellent place for hanging the towels in daily use. Holes for ventilation should be provided in the door to give a circulation of air.

In the kitchen a great help is a small cupboard with screened doors in which food too hot to be immediately placed in the refrigerator may be placed to cool.

It takes an eleven pound paperboard container to carton nearly six dozen army shirts. Cartoning the 10,000,000 shirts which the Army bought in the first part of 1941 required more than 1,500 tons of paperboard.

A public roads bureau was established by Congress in 1893.

Cement Steps Are Safe and Attractive

The first place in the house to wear out and decay is the flight of outside wooden steps. Why not recondition with concrete steps? They are safe, may be non-slippery in wet weather, and last indefinitely. They are easily kept clean and are absolutely rot-proof.

Simple forms of building the steps may be of either one-inch or two-inch lumber whichever is available.

Concrete should be of a rather stiff consistency and contain sufficient mortar to produce smooth even surfaces.

Finish with a wood float so as to produce a smooth, yet gritty surface. Curing should be done in the approved manner.

Keep Your Home In Good Shape

All economy-minded home owners are flashing the "go" sign on repairs around the house these spring evenings. With property values increasing, materials getting more and more difficult to get, it pays to keep your home in perfect shape all the time. For suggestions and materials call 57 or 72.

Built-In Garages Are Convenient

One of the objectives in planning a new home with an attached or built-in garage is to blend the garage into the mass of the house.

Built-in garages add to the livability of houses by increased convenience and ease of access to the automobile. The present practice of building the garage as an integral part of the house also aids the trend to outdoor living, since large unbroken spaces can be provided in the rear for terraces, gardens and lawns.

For economy, a bedroom may sometimes be planned over built-in garages.

SOPHOMORES CONTRIBUTE MUSICAL NARRATIVE FOR GLEE CLUB PERFORMANCE

A really stirring addition to the sum of the evening's music when the Dixon high school glee clubs present their operetta, "Trial by Jury", next Friday evening, will be an impressive musical narrative, "America Singing", planned, written and presented by the boys' and girls' choruses. Members of the sophomore class are co-authors of the narrative, in which they have worked like good soldiers to express their feelings as representatives of young America.

More than 100 singers, mostly juniors and sophomores, will appear in the mixed chorus, which will be heard from time to time, throughout the patriotic narrative. Narrators will include Jack Stevens, Darlene Lambert, Philip Reilly, and Ellen Kirk.

Miss Sara Jane Haven, music director, is supervising rehearsals for both productions, which are to be staged in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The setting for "Trial by Jury", a dramatic cantata in one act by Gilbert and Sullivan, is a British court of justice, about 1885. The cast of characters includes:

Usher, George Weigle; defendant, Bill Thompson; judge, Bud Bradford; counsel for the plaintiff, Dick Keller; plaintiff, Eileen Finney; maid of honor, Georgia Jewett; forman of the jury, Dwight Fulmer.

State Congress of P.T.A.'s Will Open April 21

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers will open its forty-third annual convention in Chicago on Tuesday, April 21, with the largest membership in its history represented by over 2,000 delegates. Members of the 1,600 and more Parent-Teacher Associations in Illinois now total 194,062, making the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers the largest service organization of men and women in the state, and the second largest state Congress in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The gain in enrollment during 1941-42 exceeded 17,133. Mrs. Elmer Droste of Mt. Olive is state chairman of membership and hospitality. The increase in membership is attributed, in part, to the emphasis on the home as the first line of defense.

"Every Home a Worthy Home" has been the year's slogan, and the convention theme is to be "Worthy Homes -- America's Strength." During the sessions, the home and its present problems will be discussed from every angle.

Greetings to the delegates will be extended at the first general session on Tuesday afternoon by Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of Chicago public schools, and Noble J. Puffer, superintendent of schools of Cook county.

Mrs. William Kletzer, president of the National Congress of P.T.A., will sound the keynote of the convention in her address, "Worthy Homes--America's Strength."

Music by the Chicago high school will open the Tuesday evening session, at which Miss Marie Leonard, dean of women at the University of Illinois, will discuss "The Profession of Parenthood."

The annual report of the president, Mrs. Lyon, will take the form of an address on "Every Home a Worthy Home" in the Wednesday morning session, to be followed by presentation of the legislative platform by Mrs. Harry M. Mulberry, state chairman of legislation and citizenship.

Wednesday afternoon is to be devoted to conferences with state board members and the parliamentarian, when matters pertaining to organization and project committees will be discussed. The convention highlight for Wednesday evening will be an address by Ernest G. Osborne, assistant professor of education at Teacher's college, Columbia university, in New York City, on the subject, "Is the Family Teaching the Ways of Democracy?" Mrs. Melvin C. Lockard is to submit the report of the election committee.

Four seminars are scheduled for Thursday morning. Everett R. Clinchy, chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, New York, is to be the banquet speaker Thursday evening, his subject being "One Nation Indivisible." The convention will close with installation of new officers by Mrs. Kletzer, national president.

TWO-NIGHT SHOW

In addition to the show they have already announced for Thursday evening, April 30, the Community Players are planning a second performance of the popular collegiate comedy, "Charm School", for the following evening, May 1. The play will be staged at the Loveland Community House, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Riddolph.

The little theatre group is extending a special invitation to newcomers to the city to witness their interpretation of "Charm School", which is to conclude their first season. "The Male Animal" was the Players' opening show, followed by "The Patsy."

P.T.A. Meets at Prairieville

Approximately 100 members and guests attended the monthly meeting for the Prairieville Parent-Teacher Association last evening at the Prairieville school. Miss Lena Bowers, the president, presided.

The song, "America," preceded the following program:

Songs, "The Robin," "All the Birds are Here," and "Sing When You are Happy," grammar room; song, "Pussy Willow," primary room; music, grammar room tonette band; choral speaking, sixth grade; bassoon solo, Margaret McClousky, accompanied by June Lee Holcomb; piano solo, June Lee Holcomb; playlet, "Sewing for the Heavens," Mesdames Mabel Williams, Viola Hartzell, Elsie Sheaffer, Mildred Grobe, Bessie Hodges, Kathryn Butterbaugh, Lucille Crews, Mary Frances Newcomer, and Miss Helen Wells of the Sugar Grove school district, directed by Mrs. Della Butterbaugh; bassoon solo, Margaret McClousky; piano solo, June Lee Holcomb.

Election of new officers took place during the business meeting. Those named were: President, Mrs. George Fritz; vice president, Mrs. George Wechsler; secretary-treasurer, Miss Ruth Manon.

Students of the school will present the program for the May meeting, which will mark the closing of the term for the summer recess.

Only 28 per cent of the nation's paper is now recovered. Most of this comes from large industries, department stores, large hotels, apartment houses and public buildings. About 50 per cent is lost, going into furnaces, incinerators or on the rubbish heap. The remaining 22 per cent goes into permanent use as book, ledger file paper and is not destroyed immediately.

G. A. A. SPORTS BALL, BIG "BREAK" FOR BOYS; GIRLS MAKE DATES AND PAY CHECKS

Members of the Girls' Athletic Association of Dixon high school were staging their tenth annual Sports Ball last evening--and in keeping with the rules for this merry "mixer-in-reverse", the girls were paying the bills. The boys, naturally, like the "leap-night" event, on which the girl must pay like a man, or go dateless. And so, believe it or not, do the girls. Proof of the yearly party's popularity is seen in last evening's attendance--85 couples, no less, turned out for the affair--which out-grew the cafeteria, scene of former G. A. A. parties, and thronged the high school gymnasium.

As in former years, the girls exchanged social places with the boys, and everything operated under girls' rules, including:

The G. A. A. member must telephone to make her own date.

She must call for her "drag" at home, help him into his coat, walk on the curb side, and open the car door (fewer cars were in use than remained in garages last evening, however, the tire situation being what it is).

She must buy the tickets, grab the supper check (and for the most part, it was steak suppers, after the party), and march manfully to the cashier's counter.

Many a Dixon mother found her son's boutonniere nestling near the breakfast bacon in her refrigerator this morning, for many flowers were worn last evening. There were gardenias, red and white carnations and other posies, to say nothing of the dolly-swathed lollypop that adorned Bud Bradford's lapel, or the cluster of chocolate coins that another G. A. A. prankster presented to her date.

(Nothing at all was said about who was to hold whose hand under the table--but that problem was expected to work itself out.) One thing was certain--all dates previously contracted by the boys were declared null and void, and no arguments.

When the party-goers entered the portals of the gymnasium, a purple and white checkerboard ceiling greeted their eyes, Tennis nets formed booths along the south wall, where exhibits representing the many and varied G. A. A. activities were displayed. Among the sports represented in the booths were skiing, ice and roller skating, shuffleboard, archery, bowling, badminton, golf, basketball, and cheer leading.

Jane Goff, G. A. A. president, superintended plans for last evening's party, which included dancing from 8 to 11 to swing tunes played by Herbie Palmer's orchestra. Jane Anne Sharpe and Charlene Enichen are Jane's co-officers.

Miss Zora Cernich is G. A. A. faculty advisor. Committee chairmen included: Helen Boyd, ceiling decorations; Jean Stevens, floor decorations and booths; Glenyce Mellott, invitations and tickets; clean-up, Mary Louise Welch; refreshments, Jane Anne Sharpe; programs, and orchestra, Jane Goff and Miss Cernich.

Patrons and patronesses included Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Winger, Principal and Mrs. B. J. Frazer, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Goff, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lindell, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bowers. Board and faculty members were invited guests.

A dispatch from London says 40 shiploads of waste paper were salvaged there last year, enough metal for building 16,000 tanks, and kitchen waste for feeding of 100,000 pigs. Even better results expected this year.

More than 90 per cent of the goods going to Britain and other allied countries under the lend-lease program are packed in waterproof paper board boxes.

Posy Snood

It's a snood! Underneath Paullette Goddard's posies, that seem to grow in her hair, there's fine white net cap which holds the flowers in place and also Paullette's locks. That bow sitting behind the soft puff of hair on her forehead holds the snood on--even through the hair's more active moments in her Paramount picture, "Reap the Wild Wind."

YOU DON'T NEED to go to a fortune teller to find out that there are some tough times ahead. But American history has proved one thing.

The people of the U. S. have never failed their country and our country has never failed them. With faith in our government, our army and navy and the justice of our cause we face the future with confidence.

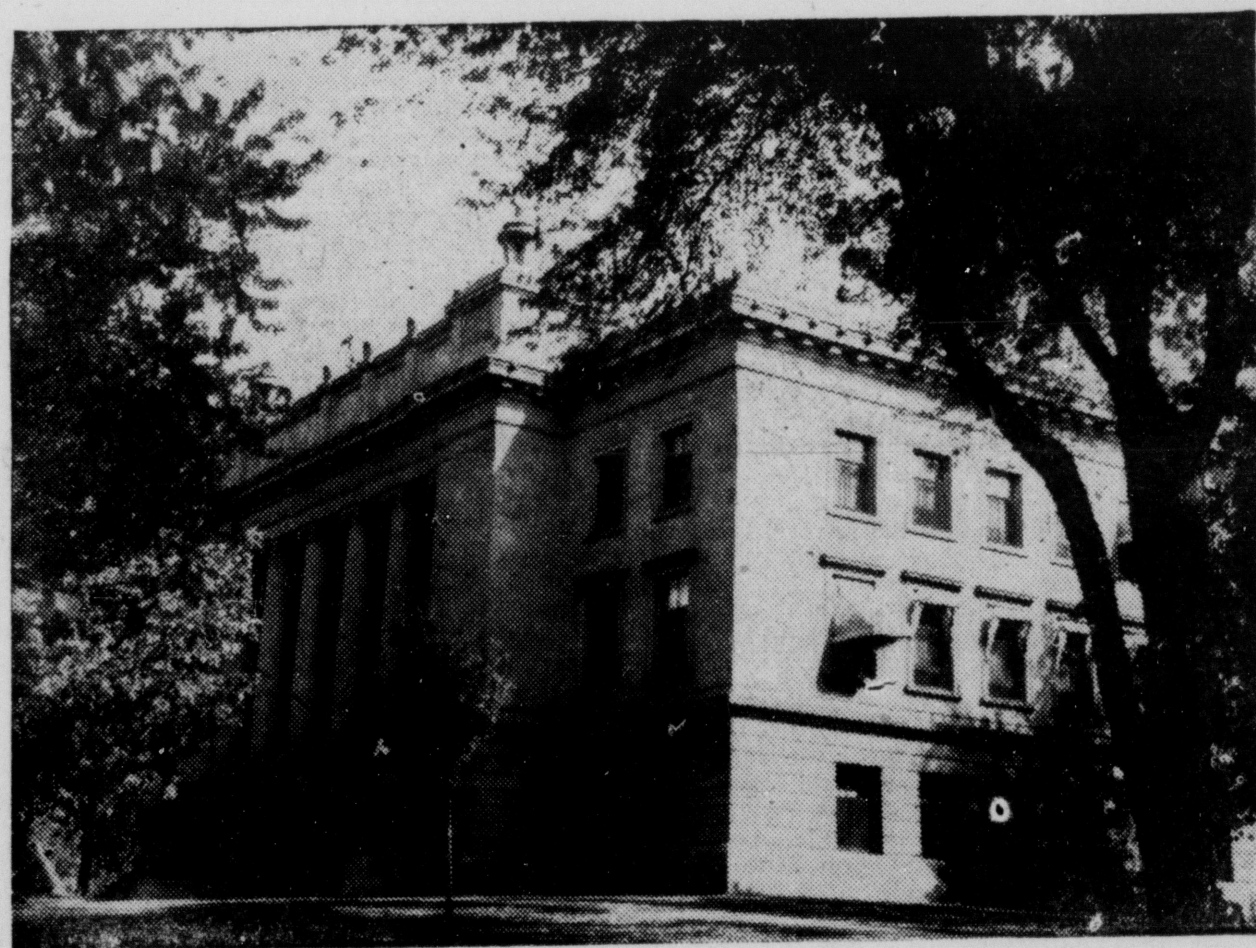

Where in the World is it happening but here in America!

Where in the World Is It Happening But in America?

On Tuesday, April 14th, Americans throughout Illinois will go to the polls to express their wishes as to who should participate in their local and State government. Where in the world are people so privileged today but in this great country of ours, AMERICA.

It behooves all of us to treasure this privilege and give serious thought as to who these people shall be. This is no time to "Let George do it." Rather it is a time to awaken to the danger that is threatening our great nation and illustrate to the foreign aggressors that America is united in government as well as in the armed forces. Let it not be said that our democracy is divided, indifferent toward its government, and weak in its war aims. These are the very things that contributed to the fifth column activities among the nations that became victims of the Berlin, Rome, Tokyo gang-

Let's show them that we do treasure our democracy by participating in one of the most important elections of our time. GO TO THE POLLS TUESDAY—VOTE—AND BE SURE THAT YOUR NEIGHBOR VOTES.

LEE COUNTY COURT HOUSE

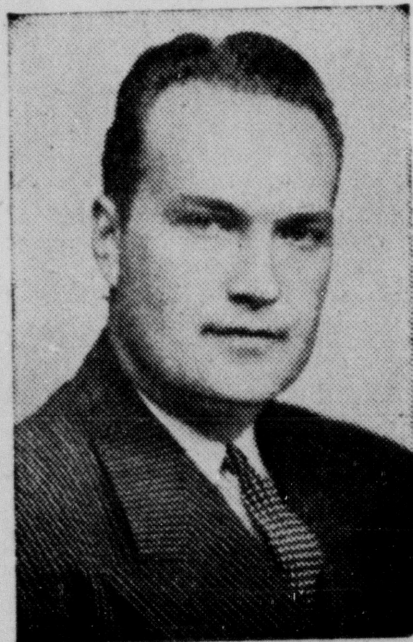

The following candidates respectfully submit their candidacy for State and County offices at the Primaries next Tuesday. Do your duty as an American -- Select the men you feel are best suited to the office and give them your support!

British Makes Minor Withdrawals in Burma

New Delhi, April 11—(AP)—A further British withdrawal on the Irrawaddy River valley front in Burma was indicated today by a British communique announcing that three Japanese vehicles were engaged Wednesday "by light reconnaissance troops in the vicinity of Nyaungbintha".

Nyaungbintha is 18 miles north of the Thayetmyo defenses and 58 miles above Prome, which was yielded before the pressure of numerically superior forces, last week.

Japanese warplanes bombed British and Chinese positions and a town in central Burma yesterday, the communique said, and British pilots and American volunteer group fliers defending a northern airfield were credited with shooting down seven.

"On the Chinese front (the eastern defense lines above Tongoo) there was Japanese artillery fire yesterday, but no definite infantry action," it said.

Plane Overshoots Landing; 3 Hurt

New York, April 11—(AP)—A 21-passenger United Airlines transport plane overshoot a runway in landing at LaGuardia airport in pre-dawn murk today and plunged into Flushing bay. The three crew members were injured; six passengers were unhurt.

Quick action by two crash boats from the nearby Pan American Airways clipper terminal averted further casualties by rescuing all nine occupants even while the plane was sinking under them.

The accident occurred as the plane, flight 12, originating in Oakland, Calif., completed the last leg of its trip from Chicago.

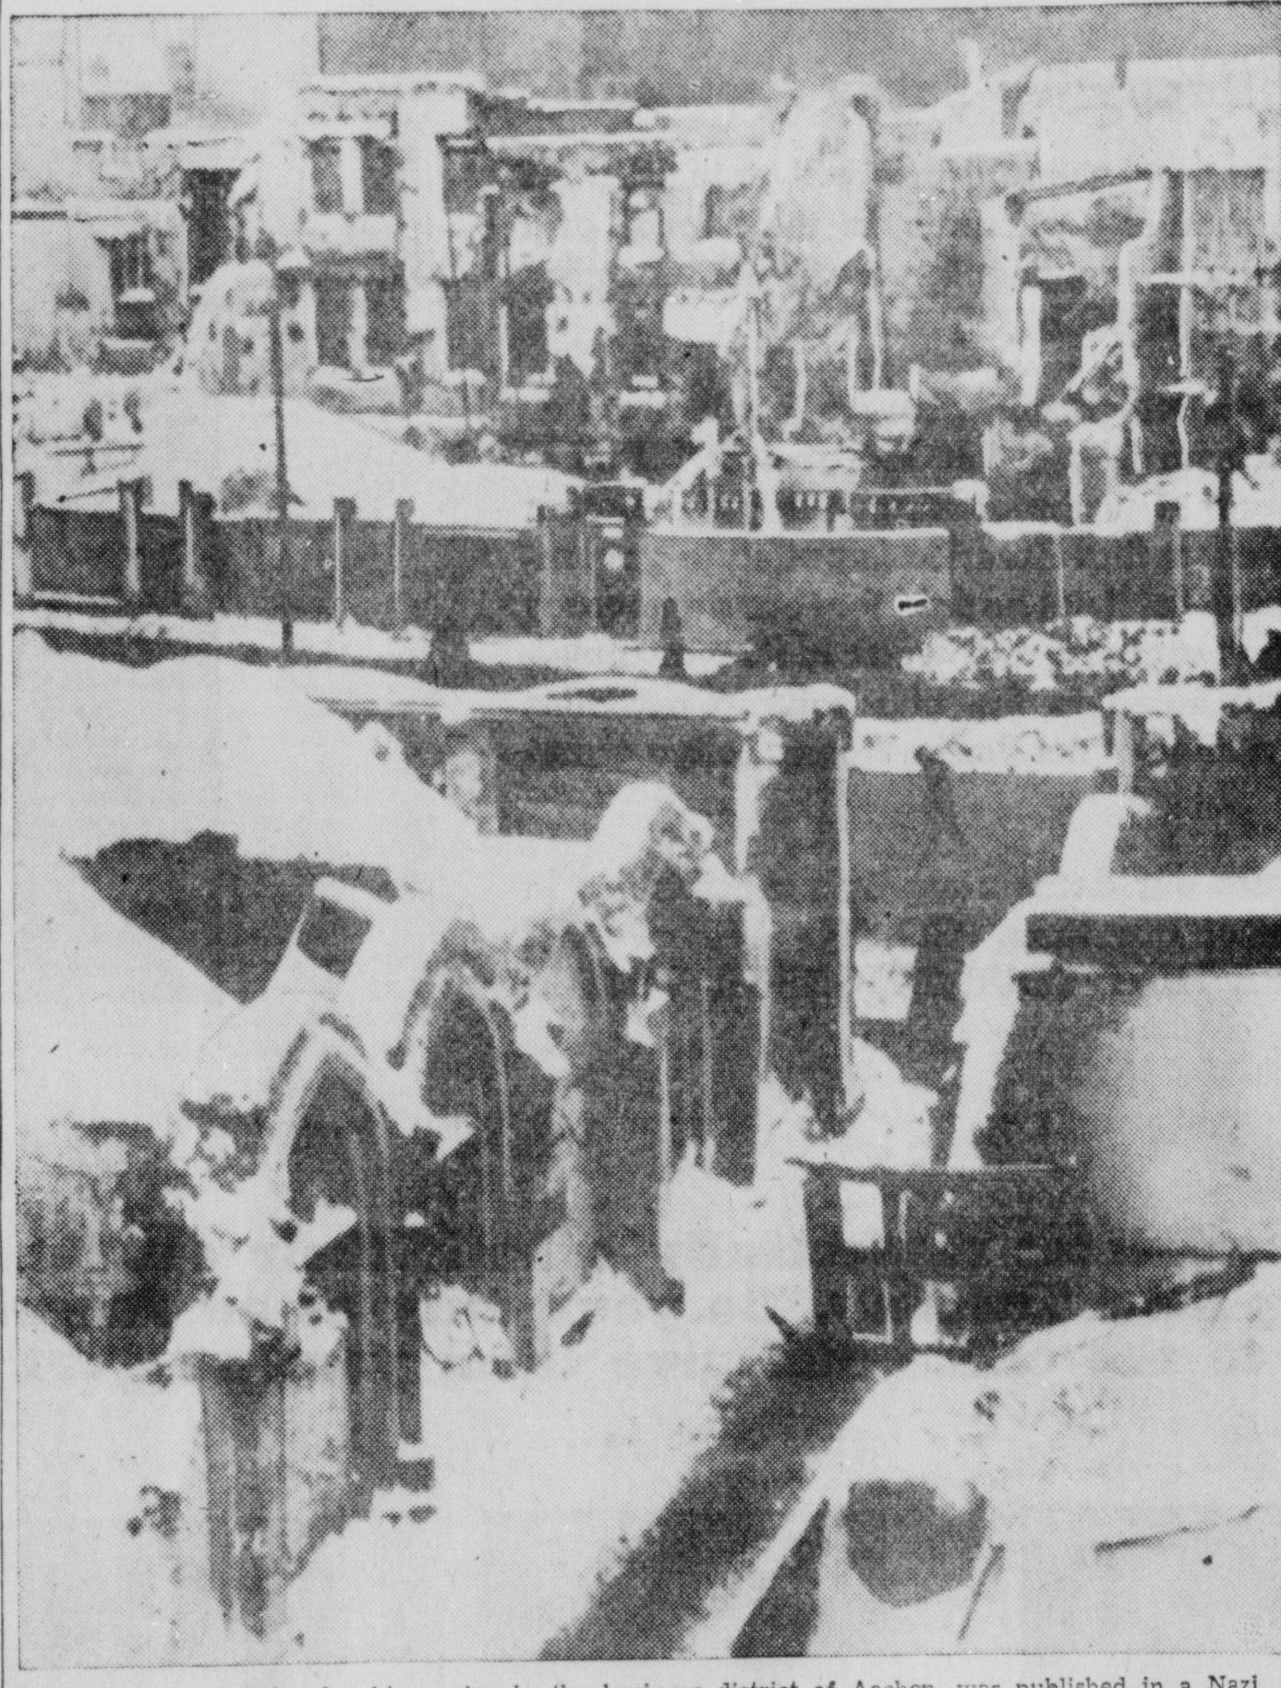

None of the passengers, among them another United Airlines copilot, John Lovett, received more than a shaking up, partly due to Lovett's action in helping them out of their safety landing belts.

Illinois Students Make Excellent Showing in the National Speech Contest

Minneapolis, April 11—(AP)—Representatives of two Illinois colleges were among the winners of awards last night after competition by more than 500 college debaters and orators from 28 states. Women's extempore winners included Margaret Baum of Northern State Teachers College of DeKalb, Ill., while among those winning a grade of superior in men's debate was Laurant Bernhardt of North Central College of Naperville, Ill. Martin J. Holcomb of Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., was installed as Vice President of Pi Kappa Delta, National Forensic Fraternity.

fire of diving enemy planes. Talked Only of Sleep

I questioned soldiers who had gone night after night without sleep and who had eaten but little during those final days when they faced overwhelming odds.

They had stood and fought, then retreated to stand and fight again, but while they tried to be obliging and tell of Bataan's last hours, they wanted only one thing now—sleep.

Gripped by this desire to sleep, their memory of experiences was unclear to them. They only knew that they were hungry, tired, sleepy.

During the night we looked across the channel toward Bataan and heard booming explosions and saw many-colored fires as the defenders, in their last defiant action, destroyed munition dumps and fuel, and anything else that might be valuable to the ever-pressing enemy.

men. The main results were that the great Japanese force which otherwise might have tried to invade Australia was held on Luzon, and that the invaders have been denied the use of the Manila harbor—finest in the western Pacific.

200 Jap Planes Destroyed

The defenders reported destruction of nearly 200 enemy planes, a high percentage of them heavy bombers. American forces sank a battleship and at least six other large ships, severely damaged at least five other vessels, destroyed large concentrations of Japanese supplies in sudden vicious raids, and killed and wounded enormous numbers of the invading troops.

The first communique of the war, issued by the war department on December 10, told of American pilots scoring direct hits on three enemy transports, one of which capsized and sank immediately, and damaging three others as the Japanese began their landing operations in Lingayen gulf. The same day, although not announced by the department until the third communique of the war, Capt. Colin Kelly sank the battleship Haruna off the north coast, losing his life in the action.

Spectacular Episodes

Other ships were sunk and damaged off the southern islands before destruction of their bases forced the transfer of MacArthur's bombers to Java and Australia. Long after they were gone, Lieut. John D. Bulkeley took a navy torpedo boat inside Subic bay and sent at least two 5000-ton enemy ships to the bottom. In one of the most spectacular episodes of the three-month battle of Bataan, the four remaining pursuit planes of MacArthur's air force were rigged up as bombers and sank three large enemy transports and two 100-ton launches in Subic bay.

The enemy ships were loaded. Thousands of Japanese were drowned or killed in the explosions of the munitions cargoes. Supplies piled up on the nearby docks were destroyed by explosions and fire.

Battle casualties among the invading forces were heavy. MacArthur's artillery raked the beaches of northern Luzon as the enemy landed, and the troops which reached shore came over their own dead. Day after day the war department received reports of heavy enemy casualties.

position to block him.

The fuhrer's chief purpose in attacking Russia was to reach the fresh supplies of the Caucasus and Middle East. The allied salvation lies in stopping him at this gateway to plenty. Thus the maintenance of a powerful allied base there would seem to be an essential—likely more essential than the opening of a fresh front in western Europe.

Actually, of course, Britain supposedly has large forces in that area already, and the United States is cooperating in building up the allied strength in this general zone. Both British and American ships can reach the Persian Gulf via the Cape of Good Hope over the long haul and, believe it or not, it would be far easier to move a fully equipped army from England to the Middle East over that 14,000 mile route, than to try to put the same army ashore across the 20 miles of English Channel.

Illinois College Banquet Honors Alumni Friday

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—The names of 35 students at Illinois College, Jacksonville, now in the armed service, were on a roll of honor unveiled last night at the annual dinner of the college's Chicago society. Behind the speakers' table were five service flags, one for each war in which Illinois College students fought.

Speakers at the dinner included President H. Gary Hudson and Prof. Joe Patterson Smith, head of the college's history department. Recorded messages from Governor Dwight H. Green and Mayor Edward J. Kelly were played.

The roll of honor was unveiled by Miss Beulah Simpson, a graduate of the school. The toastmaster was Theodore C. Wetzel, secretary of the society.

CENTERS ABOUT CAPTAIN TYLER

Capt. Cal G. Tyler leaves Wednesday for Chicago, where he is to report for active duty at the Sixth Corps Headquarters, and Dixon friends are fitting as many informal parties as possible into the intervening days before his departure.

Last evening, the R. M. Fergusons were entertaining six guests at dinner, including the Tylers, who will join relatives tomorrow for a family dinner being arranged by Mrs. Beatrice Lanphier and her mother, Mrs. E. N. Howell.

Dr. and Mrs. Murray have invited about 16 guests in for a picnic supper this evening, complimenting Captain Tyler, and tomorrow evening, the W. S. Marloths will be entertaining in his honor. The C. B. Lindells will be dinner hosts to the Tylers, the first of the week.

BETA SIGMA PHIS

Mrs. Carl Buchner, Jr. was guest speaker at Thursday evening's meeting for Beta Sigma Phis of Gamma Mu chapter. Mrs. Buchner presented an informal lecture on photography, displayed several of her own prints and kodachromes, and answered additional questions in an informal discussion which followed her talk.

Study for the remainder of the evening centered about the Greek alphabet.

Another meeting of the chapter is to take place next Thursday evening.

DUKE BANQUET NOTE . . . don't forget fans that the Duke public appreciation banquet is scheduled for Monday, April 20 and even though the public is invited, the number of reservations is limited so get your call in now and be set to dine with the Champion Dukes basketball team, Bud Foster (basketball coach at University of Wisconsin), Don Miller and Bill Shultz, former Dixon high athletes, now attending Wisconsin and other guests from the realm of sports . . . the following Chamber of Commerce members are on the ticketsales committee . . . Carl Plowman . . . Eddie Hill . . . Willard Jones . . . and Earl "Nipper" Nolan . . .

FROM MAJOR BOWLING LEAGUE . . . the Reynolds Wire bowlers might have won two games from the Freeman Shoe team last night in order to cop off the championship but the Freeman outfit bested them when it came to total team scores . . . the Freeman keggers rang up a team series of 2928 . . . the best Reynolds could do was 2859 but still the latter won the first two games at 923 to 894 and 1002 to 991 which gave them the title . . . Freeman won the third by the long count which gave them the higher team series, 1043 to 934 . . . this third game by Freeman gave them the evening's high team game honors . . . the Hunter team which finished in fourth place turned in the evening's high team series with a 2932 . . . Carl Becker of the Reynolds Wire team won both individual honors for himself as he turned in the high series with games of 189, 253 and 191 for a total of 633 . . . his game of 253 was the high individual game for the evening and fell short of only five pins from tying the record held by Johnson at 258 . . . Nelson of the Hunter team was close behind Becker with games of 20, 192 and 211 for a series of 603 . . . other bowlers getting into the upper bracket last night were . . . Dwyre 204 . . . V. Klein 226 . . . L. Smith 211 . . . Meyers 213 . . . Mitchell 25 . . . Clapp 202 . . . Daschbach 223 . . . L. Melvin 213 . . . and F. Smith 222 . . .

OFFICIAL OPENING . . . Frank Randall has announced that the official opening of the Plum Hollow Golf Course is set for Sunday, April 19 . . . regardless of this there have been a great number of golfers slashing away through the chilly weather in order to get in a few practice links before the regular season begins . . . the greens received their initial watering of the season yesterday and most of the general polishing up and carpentering is completed so the Club House will be open next week for those who like to rush the regular opening . . .

MAKES VARSITY . . . Bill Moser, ex-Duke athletic star and now a sophomore attending Beloit College, has been selected to compete on the Beloit Varsity Tennis squad this season by Coach Don Murray . . . Bill won his numerals as a freshman last season . . . following is the Beloit schedule . . . April 18 Lawrence at home . . . April 23 Ripon there . . . April 25 Loyola at home . . . May 2 Dubuque there . . . May 5 Carroll there . . . May 8 and 9 conference meet at Monmouth . . . May 13 State meet at Carroll . . .

HOESIN' AROUND . . . now that the bowling season's evening is rapidly approaching and the whole affair is just about finished some of the fans are beginning to turn their interests to other activities . . . Gene Baker . . . Galen Myers . . . and Jim Graham are taking to the bride paths for their exercise . . . (would have been pretty easy to put a pun on that word "brida") but Myers is a married man even though the other two are pretty good prospects) . . .

COUNTRY CLUB . . . the directors of the Dixon Country Club met yesterday and held their annual election of officers . . . Ben T. Shaw was elected president . . . Eldon R. Myers as vice-president and associate director . . . George W. Burch as treasurer . . . and Ben Roe as secretary . . . Merle Drew, the green-keeper, is now completing his work on the course so it will be in good shape for the opening which is slated for May 1 . . .

BITS FROM HERE AND THERE . . . our wire contact with the outside world was temporarily down this morning . . . just long enough for us to miss out on some of yesterday's happenings so here's a quick mention of a few of them . . . the Cubs and Sox were held back from tangling yesterday due to weather conditions but they'll go at it today with Johnny Rigney hurling for the Sox and Jimmy Wilson, Cub manager, had Passeau due for yesterday's battle but has made a last minute switch to Bill Lee for today . . . Melio Bettina defeated Booker Beckwith in a ten-round decision last night in the Chicago Stadium . . . Bettina, using a left-handed stance, mauled the dusky lad from start to finish and the judges' vote for the decision was unanimous . . . Bettina furthered his chances last night on his path of victories which he hopes sooner or later will earn him a crack at the Brown Bomber's crown . . . Babe Ruth has pulled through the crisis of his battle against pneumonia and is tough now because the "Medico" won't let him out of bed . . .

Packing the canned tomatoes which the army bought last year, took 1,000 tons of paperboard or the equivalent of almost two-million pounds of old newspapers, packing containers and wrappers.

A carload of blue-print paper is used in drawing the plans for one of our 35,000 ton battleships.

The scrap iron and steel from 12 junked cars will provide enough steel for a 4-ton army truck.

Reynold's Wire Team Wins Major League Bowling Title

Reynolds Bowlers Defeat Freeman Team To Win Championship; Dixon Paint Takes Second Honors; Dixon Cafe in Third

Carl Becker Is High Scorer For Reynolds With Series of 633; Nelson Tops Hunter Team With 602

The Reynolds Wire bowlers who just two weeks ago were reclining in third place of the Major league, snapped out of their lethargy by racing into first place, kept their rating intact last week and then continued on to win the championship of the circuit last night. The Dixon Paint team which has been a contending aspirant for the top post all season by bumping around in second place finished in the two spot yesterday merely two games behind the champs. The Dixon Cafe outfit which has topped the Major loop the greatest share of the season finished in third place just one game out of second.

The Reynolds Wire team won the title by defeating the Freeman Shoes in two games but ironically enough the Shoe team had the high series total at the completion of the match. Reynolds quickly put the deciding issue for top honors at rest as they won the first two games then lost the third to a beautiful display of accurate bowling on the part of the Shoe-men which netted the latter a win by a 109 point margin. Carl Becker paced the championship drive by turning in the high count of 633. Fargo led the losers with a 497 series.

The Hunter keggers defeating the second place Dixon Paint in two out of three; but the latter had previous margin enough to retain second place in the league standings. Nelson turned in a neat 603 series to pace the Hunter win. Daschbach was high for the Paint team with a series of 560.

The Dixon Cafe finished in third place but still they lost two to the Schlitz Beer bowlers. F. Smith bowled high count for the Schlitz team with a series of 595 and Hackett led the Cafe keggers with a 531 series.

The Sunnybrook bowlers won two from the Hub Tavern team which tied both teams up for fifth place on the league ladder. Dwyre led the Sunnybrook attack with a series of 568 and E. Klein did the pacing duties for the Hub team with a series of 522.

TRAFFIC FATALITY

Ottawa, Ill., April 11—(AP)—Cecil McConaughay, 34, of Ottawa, was killed last night when his automobile and a Santa Fe bus collided on U. S. highway 6 near his home. Eighteen passengers and the driver of the bus, Vern Quisenberry of Chicago, were not injured but the bus was damaged. McConaughay, married and the father of a child, was driving to the Wilmington ordnance plant, where he was employed.

Fiddling Lifts Tenseness Of Shy Bill McGree

By NEA Service, New York—Bill McGree felt that his failures of 1941 hung over him. McGree hung back when called on to play the fiddle at the barbecue thrown by Carl Hubbell when the Giants visited Oklahoma City on the training trip. Eventually McGree played "Chicken Reel" and "Camptown Meeting." McGree unfolded as he played. The tenseness of last year was lifted. The New Yorks believe the big right-hander has come into his own as the best pitcher they have had this spring.

Report Has It That Yankee Stadium Air Would Clear Up Trosky's Fogged Head

The American Champs Could Use The Ex-Indian First Baseman To Excellent Advantage

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

New York—While Ed Levy hit well on the training trip, no one associated with the Yankees is satisfied with the first basing situation.

Along this line, it is reported that there is nothing wrong with Harold Trosky's head that Yankee Stadium air wouldn't cure.

Migraine headaches drove Hal Trosky to the bench last season, but you hear that one reason why he went on the voluntarily retired list was that he wants to get away from the Cleveland club, where he ran into so many miniature revolutions.

It is said that Trosky, because of seniority, resented the appointment of young Lou Boudreau as manager of the Indians.

YANKS HAVE MATERIAL INDIANS COULD USE

If it is true that Trosky no longer cares to perform in Cleveland, Alva Bradley would be foolish not to make the best possible deal for him. And the Yankees and their elaborate farm system have men the Tribe could use to advantage.

Trosky had the reputation of being the leader of rebellious Redskins, and something of a clubhouse lawyer, but Joe McCarthy and Yankee decorum would take care of that. Where he was a stick-out in Cleveland, he'd be just another ball player in New York.

As to his ability, Trosky is no George Sisler, but he at least hits the long ball to which Yankee patrons were accustomed until tragic illness forced Lou Gehrig to the sidelines.

Buddy Hassett, who came from the Braves in the Newark Tommy Holmes transaction, has been handicapped by Charley horses, but there are unmistakable signs that the tenor has slowed down. In fact, it is understood Ed Barrow already has asked waivers on him.

IT'S HARD TO THROW OUT OF LEVY'S REACH

Levy, 25, is passable in the field and hits for distances occasionally.

High Pockets stands 6 feet 5, so it is difficult to throw a ball over his head or out of his reach. He is a hustler.

Levy has been in the Yankee chain since 1936.

He reported fresh from Rollins College.

The biggest rap against him is that he couldn't make good with the Phils in '40, which is like missing a question on one of those radio quiz programs. Another thing that is no recommendation is that experienced baseball writers traveling with the club consider him a busher.

LEVY WAS PAID $700 FOR SIGNING WITH YANKS

Born Whitner, Levy took that name last year upon meeting his father for the first time. Ed Barrow, realizing the young man might be called by the Yanks, suggested that he return to the Jewish moniker for the benefit of the lower east side. He did.

Ed Levy is no dumb bell.

He got $700 for signing with the Yankees in the first place.

It requires 5,000 lbs. of steel to make one 37 mm. anti-aircraft gun. A three inch trench mortar uses 110 lbs., 20mm. aircraft cannon 11 lbs., 30 cal. machine gun 25 lbs. and a 50 cal. machine gun 100 lbs.

Last One In Is A Sissy!

These young fellows find 91-degree temperature in Washington, D. C., a bit too much for them. And, as every boy knows, there's nothing like the old 'swimmin' hole to cool off.

Jo Davidson Reveals Life-Like Figure of Famous Helen Keller

Lahaska, Pa. (Wire World) — There was something incredible about that whole soft April afternoon—the sun-washed Pennsylvania countryside wrapped in a purple haze, the old Dutch farmhouse, the dogs, the studio and the people, too.

It started out to be a conventional interview with Jo Davidson, whose facile fingers have immortalized in marble and bronze the features of many of the world's great.

"There goes the old heat hunter," Will Rogers used to say whenever he ran across the sculptor with the big beard and jaunty, youthful carriage.

But it seems that nothing is conventional about Jo Davidson. Even his snap-brim slouch hat is set at a rakish angle in total disregard of the dignity of his 59 years.

"I've got a surprise for you," he greeted, opening his studio door in answer to a knock. "I want you to meet someone."

Inside the big gray-stone studio, the light fell through a skylight on Miss Helen Keller.

Beside the stool on which she sat was her image in sculptor's mud but mobile as the face of flesh. Davidson had captured all the character, the patience and kindness in the features of this great woman who has overcome the handicaps of the blind, deaf and mute to live a full, useful life.

Side by side, the effect was startling. It seemed that the artist had breathed life into that mud mask.

"It's the most inspirational thing I've ever done," he said. "This woman is an amazing creature."

But Davidson is an amazing creature himself with a lusty love of life and great plans for the future. Only medium height, his large handsome head and beard make him appear much bigger in stature than he really is. He has the appearance of a man who likes the good things of life and knows how to enjoy them.

Watching him work were Mrs. Davidson and Polly Thomson, constant companion of Miss Keller who serves as her eyes and ears.

Sometime mentioned the war, and Miss Thomson's fingers relayed the remark to Miss Keller, who threw up her hands. Davidson stopped his work.

Haltingly, but with sudden passion, Miss Keller said: "I feel the war deeply. My heart is filled with shadows darker than deafness and blindness."

"But my faith never wavers. Out of this terrible blackness we will at last create a world of justice."

It was a prophecy and a promise, and an array of witnesses peered out of their bronze masks from the dusty shadows along the studio walls.

There was thin-lipped General Pershing, Clemenceau the tiger, Joffre and Foch, a tired-looking Wilson and his Colonel House—figures out of the tragedy of the war that was to have made the world free for democracy.

They stared from their pedestals in ghostly silence, and one could imagine that after Helen Keller's promise of a future with justice, the eyes turned to the huge head in the center of the studio—that of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Ghandi was another of his subjects, and Davidson said he owed that sitting to DeWitt MacKenzie, Wide World War Analyst, and the late Jim Mills, globe trotting Associated Press reporter, who were in London at the time. They arranged for Davidson to meet Ghandi.

"I see you make heroes out of mud," the little Indian leader joked after the work was finished.

"And sometimes," Davidson replied, "it's vice versa."

A product of New York's teeming lower east side, of Russian-Jewish extraction, Davidson didn't become seriously interested in art until he reached his teens' although drawing and painting interested him even as a child.

He won a scholarship at the Art Students' League when 16, but after a time he became dissatisfied and decided to study medicine, and entered the Yale school of medicine.

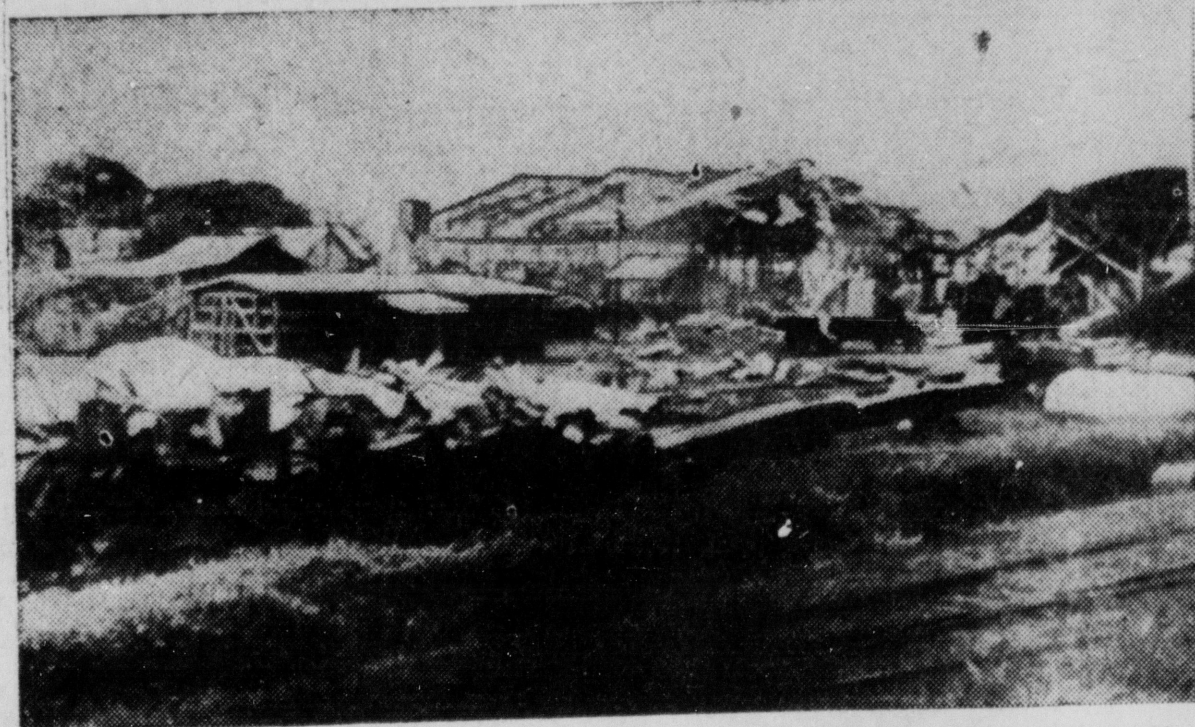

But one day he chanced to see some clay figures being modeled in Yale's school of fine arts, and he tried his hand at it. That finished the medical career and he began studying sculpture.

Europe followed, and gradually Davidson emerged as one of the world's most renowned sculptors.

One ton of waste paper will produce any one of the following: 1,500 shell containers; 47,000 boxes for .30 caliber ammunition; 71,000 dust covers for airplane engines, or 36,000 practice targets. These figures were announced by the British Ministry of Supply.

According to the National Waste Review Magazine, approximately 65 per cent of all copper used in the United States before the war came from secondary sources.

The Kasbeer unit of the Home Bureau met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anna Sisler. Mrs. Madsen and Miss Herril Hussey of Kasbeer presented the lesson on "Meat Broiling" and Mrs. Rose Melody gave a Red Cross first aid demonstration of the triangular bandage.

Circle No. 1 of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Lydia Ioder. At the close of an afternoon of quilting the hostess served refreshments.

Chicago Ordnance Dist. Leading in Production

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—The Chicago Ordnance district, says Col. Donald Armstrong, commanding officer, is producing the largest amount of war materials of any of the nation's 13 districts and the scheduled output is 10 months ahead of the last World War schedules.

Armstrong said that contracts in the district, which embraces most of Illinois and northern Indiana, and all of Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota and North and South Dakota by July 1 probably would reach $2,500,000,000, more than 5½ times its entire World War total.

Speaking at a joint conference of the Illinois Manufacturers Association and the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday, Armstrong said that Ordnance contracts in the district now totaled $1,938,000,000.

He said that more than 1,000 big plants were rushing production on Ordnance prime contracts, with more than 12,000 other plants busy on Ordnance sub-contracts. The ratio of sub-contracts to prime contracts, he added, has been increasing daily and now was about eight to one.

The U. S. has had 31 presidents and 32 vice presidents.

Advisory Group on Agriculture Is Named by Green

Every phase of agriculture and all citizens of Illinois whose efforts are given to that industry are represented by 32 members of an advisory committee appointed today by Governor Dwight H. Green, chairman of the Illinois State Council of Defense.

The committee will advise with the council's standing committee on agricultural resources and production which is composed of Dean H. P. Rusk of the University of Illinois college of agriculture, chairman; Stuart Duncan of LaSalle, and State Representative Frederick W. Rennick of Buda.

All of agriculture's wartime problems, including increased production, the labor necessary for the increase, and the difficulties created by shortages and rationing as they apply to farm materials, will be considered by the standing committee and its advisory group.

Governor Green, anxious that Illinois step up its agricultural production in keeping with wartime requirements, said he believes the advisory committee will offer important suggestions on how to achieve this end in the face of many difficulties.

Dr. J. N. Spaeth, head of the department of forestry, University of Illinois college of agriculture, was named chairman of the advisory committee. Other members are:

J. B. Andrews, University of Illinois agricultural extension; Professor J. Lita Bane, head of home economics department, University of Illinois; Otto Berlage of Galena; N. O. Braden of Odell; B. B. Clark of Urbana, coordinator of soil conservation service in Illinois; Mrs. J. C. Clifton of Milford; A. W. Colebank of Chicago, acting federal milk market administrator Home Bureau commit-

Street Car Fares in Chicago Raised

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—Street car fare in Chicago beginning April 20 will be 8 cents, an increase of one cent. The fare for children 7 to 12 years will be boosted from 3 to 4 cents.

The new rates were authorized yesterday by the Illinois Commerce Commission, which also ordered the Chicago surface lines to make substantial improvements in service for the city's estimated two million daily riders.

WILL EDIT CHI. SUN

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—Turner Catledge, chief correspondent of the Chicago Sun, became acting editor of the paper today taking over the duties of Editor Rex Smith who has been granted a leave of absence to enter the army. Announcement of Catledge's appointment was made by Publisher Silliman Evans.

Leon Henderson, Price Administrator, has estimated that defense needs will require 50 per cent more waste paper in 1942 than was needed in 1941.

War Begins To Make Drastic Changes On Picturesque South

Atlanta—(Wide World)—In the cities and back in the hills, the hollows and the piney woods—beyond paved roads and even telephones—the war is bringing changes to the south that promise to be as profound as any since reconstruction following the war between the state.

Huge plantations, once the bedrock of its economic structure, are disintegrating under the impact of war-born social change, and yielding with them are old traditions of landlord and tenant.

A way of life wrapped up in sentimental memories of cypress and magnolia blossoms, inging negroes and family, ties is breaking up in many areas caught up in the currents of war.

Across the southland moves a surge of migrant workers going from the farms into high-paying jobs—shifting many thousands leaving the farms for the lure of steady wages in war production centers.

Land prices are rising. The cost of living is going up. Farmwages are rising in the face of dwindling labor supply. Landowners are turning to mechanized farming in a trend away from the old sharecropper system.

Many bewildered tenants and wage hands, now on industrial pay rolls, yearn to return to the land. Many grow restive in trailer camps and little furnished rooms in overcrowded war centers. The easy money they envisioned melts away in higher living costs.

Federal agricultural experts say there is a trend in the south toward large land-holdings, but diminishing farm labor in rural areas and uncertainty of the future on the part of renters and 'croppers' are bringing ever-greater use of machinery.

These things are bringing a wartime dislocation of the paternal landlord-tenant relations long peculiar to the old south, and then, too, the government is purchasing many plantations for army training centers and industrial sites.

In Talladega county, Ala., government acquisition of land took two of the oldest agricultural settlements in the section—Alpine and Plantersville.

They were owned by descendants of original slave-holding families and worked by tenants who are children or slaves reared on these same plantations.

There were about 15 or 16 families on the 1011-acre farm of H. H. Cook.

Genial, countryfied and 60-ish, Cook estimates there were "about a hundred head" on his place, counting "big un, little uns and all." The tenants were negroes. "The worst thing about it," he says, "was having to break up our place and see those negroes leave. I had better than the average bunch. Most all of them were born there. Their dadidies belonged to my mother. You'll notice almost all of them named Garrett, a family name."

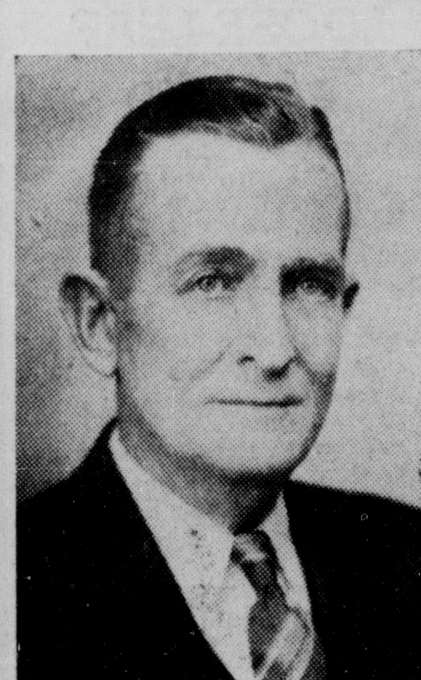

"Those negroes cried when they had to leave. They had a church and a school on the place, and most of them'd never been off no more than to Talladega in their lives."

NEW ABBOT AT ST. BEDE'S

Peru, Ill., April 11—(AP)—The new abbot of St. Bede college and Academy at Peru, and Spalding Institute at Peoria is the Rev. Lawrence Vohs, C. S. D., 41, a native of LaSalle. He was elected yesterday at the conclusion of an all-day session of 54 priests comprising the St. Bede community. The Rev. Vohs, who was prior at Spalding Institute, succeeded Abbot Justus Wirth, who died last month.

Defense now takes one-fourth of the more than 8,000,000 tons of paper board which it is estimated will be manufactured in the United States in 1942. By the end of 1942 it will be utilizing up to two-thirds of an estimated 9,000,000 tons.

The members of the International Typographical Union, including compositors and linotype operators of The Evening Telegraph believe an explanation of their position should be made to the public in order to clear up any misunderstanding as to their position in working while the pressmen and The Telegraph management are having labor differences.

The I. T. U. has for the last ten years had a union contract with The Telegraph and has just recently signed another three-year contract which we are carrying out according to its provisions.

The I. T. U. is not affiliated with the A. F. L. and carries out its own negotiations, and as one of the oldest unions in the United States requires its members to fulfill their contract unless violated by the employers.

We hope this explanation will clear up any misunderstandings which anyone may have of our position in regard to the pressmen's strike.

To the Democrats of Lee County:

In 1932 I spent a great deal of time and money in an effort to be elected State's Attorney. In 1936 again I carried the standard of the Democratic party and was re-elected. That was the first time in the history of Lee County that a Democratic County official was ever re-elected.

Next Tuesday you will vote for a Democratic candidate for Representative in the General Assembly. Lee County is entitled to this office. I believe I am entitled to Democratic support because of my past record as a Democrat and as your former State's Attorney. I will represent you in the Legislature as well as I did in County office.

Solution To Keeping Salaries, Wages and Prices Even Is Seen

New York—(Wide World)—A sane, practical solution to the difficult and vital problem of keeping industrial wages, corporation war profits and farm prices in line appeared this week to be emerging from the confusing discussions and stalling since Pearl Harbor.

The industrial worker, the factory owner, and the farmer all are vital to the war effort.

The pay envelope, corporate profits and the price-tag on a bag of food are, in essence, much like the three legs of a three-legged stool atop which rests war production.

The war material effort is likely to be unsettled or upset by any sudden lengthening or shortening of any one of the three legs without compensating adjustment of the other two.

Now, after the series of hearings, the issuing of statements, the healthy name-calling that accompany the American democracy's way of doing things, a solution to the wage-profits-farm-price problem seems likely, the experts say, along these lines:

1. Passage of legislation to limit war profits.
2. Either a lengthening of the 40-hour basic work week to 44 or 48 hours, or a relaxing of management opposition to overtime pay as the result of the war profits limitation.
3. A quieting of future demands for further increases in farm prices if limits are set on war industrial profits, and prices of essential civilian goods items the farmer busy are kept under reasonable control.

Said war production chief Donald Nelson in a statement regarded as expressing the views of President Roosevelt:

"If we abolish the 40-hour week by law we do not gain one hour of additional work in our war industries; but naturally we create a widespread demand for increases in wage rates, throw the entire structure out of adjustment, and remove an important incentive for labor to shift from non-vital industries into war production jobs."

When the profits limitation question is settled, observers say, discussion of the matter of the work-week can go on from there with greater speed and facility.

If profits limitations measures are enacted, some observers say, the government for the first time in any war thus may find itself in a position to keep profits, wages and farm prices in balance.

With a law to keep profits in line, the labor board could, if it chose, keep wages from getting out of hand and, by so doing, could forestall any new wage spiral to bring fresh demands from farmers for higher guarantees on major crops.

It will take 20,000,000 tons of steel to make 10,000,000 army reconnaissance cars and trucks or medium tanks.

The P.-T. A. of the Merchant school met on Monday evening, March 30 with a pot luck supper in honor of Martin Miller, who was leaving for camp the next day.

After every one had eaten of a most delicious meal the president, Louella Hopkins, called the meeting to order.

"America the Beautiful", played by the school's rhythm band and audience singing of the final stanza opened the meeting. The president called upon the secretary to read the minutes of the last meeting which were read and approved. The treasurer's report also was read and accepted.

Dale Gloden presided during the election of new officers for 1942 and 1943 which are as follows: President—Mrs. Dale Gloden. Vice president—Edwin Mau. Secretary and treasurer—Lena Kotoed.

Following the election and no further business, a most delightful program was presented: Recitation—Jack Dietz. Rhythm band and son—school. Solo—Marilyn Gallentine. Duet—Mary Hopkins and Helen Gerdes.

Our Boarding House With Major Hoople Out Our Way By Williams

President's Letter to AEF Boys

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

TO MEMBERS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY EXPEDITIONARY FORCES:

You are a soldier of the United States Army. You have embarked for distant places where the war is being fought.

Upon the outcome depends the freedom of your lives: the freedom of the lives of those you love—your fellow-citizens—your people.

Never were the enemies of freedom more tyrannical, more arrogant, more brutal.

Yours is a God-fearing, proud, courageous people, which, throughout its history, has put its freedom under God before all other purposes.

We who stay at home have our duties to perform—duties owed in many parts to you. You will be supported by the whole force and power of this Nation. The victory you win will be a victory of all the people—common to them all.

You bear with you the hope, the confidence, the gratitude and the prayers of your family, your fellow-citizens, and your President.

Franklin D. Roosevelt

This letter goes to all our lads leaving to fight in foreign lands and let's them know how President Roosevelt feels about them.

Bunker Hill Club

Mrs. Raymond Buzzard entertained the Bunker Hill club on Thursday afternoon. Twenty members answered roll call with my pet superstition. Mrs. Herbert Christensen was a club guest. The meeting opened singing "America." The president, Mrs. L. Fordham conducted the regular business meeting. Election of officers was held with new officers as follows: President, Mrs. Clark Hasenyaeger; vice president, Mrs. Loyal Meisenheimer; secretary and press correspondent, Mrs. Arthur Kerber; treasurer, Mrs. Ben Behrens; pianist, Mrs. Everett Poepka; remembrance chairman, Florence Clark; other member of the executive committee, Mrs. Alvin Johnson. Mrs. Arthur Kerber had charge of the recreation. Games were enjoyed at this time. A sack lunch exchange was a special feature of the afternoon. Articles were brought by members, suitable to send to Good Will Institute at Chicago. The last meeting of the year will be held in May at the home of Mrs. Sidney Fordham with installation of officers.

Altar and Rosary Society

Mrs. Russell Brandenburg was hostess to the Altar and Rosary society on Thursday afternoon. Eleven members were present. Guests were Father James S. Clancy of Ohio and Mrs. Harry Dawson of Dixon. The president, Edna Battin, conducted the regular business meeting. Plans were made for bake sale on April 18. Father Clancy gave a report on the vestments that were purchased and donated by the Altar and Rosary society. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Past Matrons Club

Miss Eleanor Keigwin was hostess to the Past Matrons club on Thursday afternoon. Thirteen members answered roll call with Easter thoughts. The meeting opened singing "Remember Pearl Harbor." Mrs. Charles Wahl conducted the regular business meeting. Mrs. Olan Melton gave a book report on "Saratoga Trunk" written by Edna Ferber. Blackout games were played during recreation hour. Miss Laura Hoffman will be the May hostess. Dainty lunch was served.

Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Keleher entertained Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fink and daughter Judy, Mrs. Hazel Whitner and Miss Lorene Peach at 7 o'clock dinner on Thursday honoring the birthdays of Elmer Fink and Stephen Keleher.

Around the Loop Club

Mr. and Mrs. George Schrader were hosts to their bridge club on Thursday evening. Three tables were at play. Couples high score prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hall and deuce prize was awarded to Harold Hall also. Delicious refreshments were served.

Business Girls Club

Miss Joann Ross was hostess to the Business Girls' club on Thursday evening. Two tables of bridge were at play. High score prize was awarded to Miss Marjorie Broers and low prize to Mrs. Franklin Wallace. The club will meet in two weeks with Miss Margaret Ross. Dainty lunch was served.

Locals

Mrs. Ted Greer and Miss Helen Volmer, both of Ottawa, were Thursday afternoon callers of Mrs. Harold Wallis.

Everett Larson now employed at Paxton is spending the week end with his family.

Rev. and Mrs. E. V. Hallock entertained the fourteen members of the choir of the Christian church, Mrs. Melvin Walrath and Mrs. Ed Clark at 7 o'clock dinner on Thursday evening. A social evening was spent.

Religious Subjects Should Be Taught in Public Schools

Religious instruction in the public school is necessary if the ideals of America are to be perpetuated, Justice Norris C. Bakke of the Supreme Court of Colorado told a laymen's meeting at the convention of the International Council of Religious Education at the Stevens hotel.

"I could quote endless statistics showing that very few youths who have had religious training come before the juvenile or criminal courts of our country," said Justice Bakke. "This fact becomes very important when we stop to think that the annual crime bill in America is $15,000,000. What so-called hard-headed businessman can fail to see the stake that the state has in such a program?"

"I would not presume to say that religious education was and is the sole answer to this problem. However, it is one of the most important keys to the situation. And the vast field it needs to occupy is indicated by the fact that in my state, for instance, one half of the boys and girls do not go to any Sunday school at all."

"Utah and Washington are the only states whose constitutions forbid religious instruction in the schools."

"On the other hand, 42 of the 48 state constitutions, in their preambles, acknowledge God and invoke His guidance in the establishment of their government. I know of no state constitution that forbids the use of the Bible in the public schools."

"The educational system in Germany has been taken over by the Nazis and their paganism. World chaos produces tremendous confusion here. I feel that if moral and spiritual values are to be maintained, the church must have the aid of the schools. Otherwise it is an impossible task."

—The Chicago Daily News.

Defense officials have said that in 1942 from the estimated 30 million tons of scrap needed for the war machine, twelve and one half millions must come from junked autos, tractors and obsolete machinery. So old jalopies turned into scrap are an important part of this year's defense steel requirements.

Mrs. Silvin Christiansen, Rockford, sixth district president state department of Illinois of the V. F. W. auxiliary was met at Oregon by the president of the local auxiliary, Mrs. Martha Watson, Thursday noon and was entertained at luncheon at the Sinissippi hotel in Oregon after which the afternoon was spent calling on Mrs. Lynn Elliott, local secretary, who is convalescing from a two months illness. In the evening Mrs. Watson entertained her guest at dinner at her country home north of town. Later that evening Mrs. Christiansen inspected the local V. F. W. auxiliary which was followed by a social meeting in honor of the president and commander, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Watkins, whose birthdays were the 9th and 5th of April, respectively. A large birthday cake was presented by Mrs. Lynn Elliott and Mrs. Leon Beard and ice cream was furnished by the men of the post.

Mrs. E. M. Goodsell and 95-year-old mother, Mrs. Ames of Dixon visited in the Lynn Elliott home Wednesday afternoon. The women of the Methodist church will hold a silver tea at the home of Mrs. M. C. Small at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, April 17, for the benefit of the Lake Bluff Orphanage. Mrs. Edwards will review "Windswept" by Mary Ellen Chase. All ladies of the church are invited to attend.

The Junior Woman's club will meet Monday evening at the home of Miss Marjorie Yerkey. Following the business meeting Jimmie Asp will give a piano recital. The P. T. A. will meet at the high school Monday evening which will include a report of the nominating committee. Dr. Mildred E. Berry of Rockford college will discuss "Who Speaks the King's English." Dr. Berry has been professor in speech at Rockford college since 1926 and for four years prior to that was instructor in speech at the University of Iowa. Her special fields of interest are stuttering and lisping, and various research activities have been carried on by her through grants from the Wisconsin Research Foundations. Monday afternoon Dr. Berry will consult with teachers in our local school in regard to specific problems in their work with children with speech defects.

Christian Church
W. Harold Wiltz, minister.

The Sunday morning unified service of worship and instruction begins at 9:30, with service and sermon by the pastor, and the church school directed by Clarence Chambers. Sunday will be the first in a post-Easter program of special service centering around the theme of "The Living Church." The sermon is "The Living Church—Its Message for the World's Hurt." Golden Rule Sunday will be observed through this service in cooperation with the other churches and the Kiwanis club and business interests. Sunday evening at 6 o'clock the Youth Discussion group will meet to discuss the Golden Rule in daily life. All members are urged to attend the Forum service at the Brethren church at 7:30, with Dr. S. Kinchloe, speaker. The choir will practice at 8:30 and 7:15 on Thursday evening.

Army Rule Property "Off-Limits" When Rent Gets Too High

Alexandria, La., (Wide World)—Some army officers at nearby camps have found a way to beat the high rents of this crowded war center, even if they had to go off to Ireland and Australia and leave their investments behind.

The billeting officer has helped in reducing prices by declaring property "off-limits" for the army if the rent was exorbitant and the landlord refused to do anything about it.

But the climax came, Mayor W. George Bowdon said, when more than 100 officers from Wisconsin, Michigan, Pennsylvania and other states bought their own homes.

Some of them have been transferred to Ireland, Australia but they expected to be back after the war and in the meantime they have joined local property owners in realization of handsome profits from rentals.

Alexandria, with a 1940 census of slightly more than 27,000, was just a sleepy southern city before the army came. It was an agricultural trading center and a hub of the state's railroads.

Around the city the army located the new camps of Livingston, Claiborne and Polk and expanded Camp Beauregard, which turned out 100,000 men in World War 1 and since has been used by the National Guard, the Civilian Conservation Corps and the Citizens Military Training Corps. Also new is Esler Field, an army airport.

During the construction days, when $50,000,000 was poured into the camps, more than 50,000 workers were employed at one time. Overnight the housing facilities bulged to the bursting point and civilian building began.

Suburbs sprang up. New homes were built by the hundreds, and local people as well as visitors began to buy on F.H.A. terms.

The police force was doubled; restaurant permits jumped from a score to 300.

And now the Mayor says that water and gas consumption averages show that 65,000 persons are living in the city limits while nearby small hamlets and towns have blossomed. More than 100,000 persons live in the immedi-

Y. P. M. C. Meeting

The Y. P. M. C. of the Evangelical church will meet on Monday evening, April 13. The devotional leader will be Doris Parker and Lois Kendall will present the lesson. The entertainment is in charge of Betty Wilhelm and Lois Landis. This meeting is to be a pep meeting and all members are urged to be present.

Sixteen per cent of the 882,000 tons of rubber which the U. S. C. will use in 1942 must come from rubber reclaimed from old tires and other used rubber goods. To bring the reclaimed total up to this amount rubber wholesalers will need all the old tires and tubes, boots, shoes and garden hose the public can contribute.
